

Linguistics

1. Which of this following commonly associates with Noam Chomsky?
 - a. diachronic approach
 - b. Transformational Grammar
 - c. semiology
 - d. langue and Parole
2. 'kernel sentences' means
 - a. A sentence has multiple verbs
 - b. It is a complex sentence
 - c. A simple declarative construction
 - d. A sentence is formed using noun words only without verb
3. Syntactic Structures is a major work in linguistics by American linguist. It was first published in 1957. Who is writer of this book?
 - a. Noam Chomsky
 - b. Roman Jakobson
 - c. Nikolai Trubetzkoy
 - d. Charles Sanders Peirce
4. 'Aspects of the Theory of Syntax' is a book on linguistics by
 - a. Noam Chomsky
 - b. Roman Jakobson
 - c. Nikolai Trubetzkoy
 - d. Charles Sanders Peirce
5. 'The cat caught the mouse' which is the agent in this sentence.
 - a. The cat
 - b. Caught
 - c. The
 - d. Mouse
6. A particular form of a language which is peculiar to a specific region or social group is called.
 - a. Idiolect
 - b. dialect
 - c. Pidgin
 - d. Syntax
7. Which of the following is plosive consonant sounds
 - a. /f/
 - b. /k/
 - c. /m/
 - d. /n/
8. IPA stands for
 - a. Internal Phonetic Alphabet
 - b. International Phonemic Acoustic
 - c. Inter-sound Phonetic Alphabet
 - d. International Phonetic Alphabet

9. A branch of linguistics concerned with the systematic organization of sounds in spoken languages and signs in sign languages is called.
- Morphology
 - Sociology
 - Phonology
 - Philology
10. A combination of two adjacent vowel sounds within the same syllable is called.
- Monophthongs
 - gliding vowel
 - zero vowel
 - null phoneme
11. 'she drives her car in city'. Which of these following is GENITIVE CASE?
- She
 - drive
 - her
 - in city
12. Which case is alternative for possessive?
- Nominative case
 - Objective case
 - accusative case
 - Genitive case
13. A term used to describe a pidgin after it has become the mother tongue of a certain population
- Creole
 - dialect
 - accent
 - parole
14. Each of two or more words having the same spelling or pronunciation but different meanings is
- homorganic
 - homophone
 - homograph
 - homonym
15. A new word in the vocabulary of a language
- opaque
 - lexeme
 - neologism
 - metalanguage